Atlanta, 20.11.2018, 15:38 Time

Boosie Official - Boosie Badazz has been described as one of the best things to come out of Louisiana underground since his emergence in 1997, growing to become one of the most significant presences in hip-hop. Vlad TV broke the news in September after much speculation. However, it has become official that the recording artist will release his new blues album, "Boosie's Blues Café" as a perfect Thanksgiving Day gift to his fans.

"I got a blues album I just completed," Boosie said. "My blues album is a real blues album. Blues beats, blues instruments. It's one of the coldest blues album people will hear. It's like it's a great blues album."

Boosie revealed that the inspiration behind creating a blues album came from Snoop Dogg's gospel release titled "The Bible Of Love," inspiring him to venture into different genres of music and expand his musical horizons.

According to Boosie, his upcoming project will be another body of work to have in his already extensive catalog. "I do it for my greatness," he said. "My blues album, you know I'm not doing it just to do a blues album. I'm doing it because I know how good my blues album gon' be... Anything I'm going into a field with, I'm going in to perfect it," continued Boosie.

Boosie has been previewing some of his works on Instagram, giving his fans a feel of what to expect before the official release. This is in addition to launching his label, rolling out his roster for the New Year, starting with artist OG Dre releasing his new single titled "The Sauce" ft. Lil Baby.

There are also several artists that he is currently working with and will be dropping their projects in the next few months. Some of the artists include JD The Gotti, Playbwoi, Ant G "The Italian Stallion", Tre Killa, Tootie, IVI, Wavii, and Yung Bleu. Yung Bleu is signed to Columbia Records/Bad Azz Music Syndicate and is currently pushing two singles "Unappreciated," which currently has over 8 million views on YouTube, and "Ice On My Baby (Remix)" featuring Kevin Gates, which has garnered over 12 million views on YouTube. Boosie also has two major producers coming out of the camp Jit and Playbwoi.

Boosie Badazz continues to expand and grow his brand beyond music including Rap Snacks: The Official Snack of Hip Hop, Boosie Juice and Jewel House Brand: The Official Lil Boosie Collection to name a few.
